DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-2, 8, 16-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Greve et al (US. Pat. No. 4,020,751).

Greve et al discloses all that is recited in the claims since it teaches a method for applying two types of paste (from two different sources) to a web of cigarette paper (see see fig.1, and col4, lines 35-60).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-6, 8-9, 16-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Greve et al (US. Pat. No. 4,020,751).

Regarding claims 3-5, while Greve et al may not specifically state that the paste is "intermittently applied", as by a rotary valve, or conveyed by a pump, these steps are not deemed to patentably distinguish the claims from the reference as it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have provided for such application in order to effectively regulate the amount of paste applied to the web.

Regarding claim 6, while Greve et al may not state that any additive is added to the adhesive, it follows that one having ordinary skill in the art would have opted to provide/add an additive, such as a surfactant, to maintain the desirable properties of the flowable adhesives while being retained in their respective reservoirs.

Regarding claim 9, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have maintained the respective paste sources at different pressures in order to properly apply the paste to the web since they possess different physical properties.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to the pending claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
